Look to this day!
For it is the very life of life.
In its brief course lie all the realities
All the realities of existence:
The bliss of growth,
The glory of action,
The splendor of beauty.
For yesterday is already a dream,
And tomorrow is only a vision;
But today, well-lived,
Makes every yesterday a dream of happiness,
And every tomorrow a vision of hope.
Look well, therefore, to this day!

IN MEMORIAM

I am a hero
My medal says so;
I went into battle,
And killed the foe.

My buddies were with me,
He was bigger than I;
I only had to kill,
But he had to die.

We, the members of the Senior Class, proudly dedicate our yearbook to you, Mr. Butler. In the few years that you have been with us, you have become a friend to all. We would like to thank you for your helpful guidance and understanding. Thank you for having faith in us throughout all our endeavors.

Stick to the subject, Mr. Butler!

Helpful in the classroom.

Our faithful confidante.

A dark, grainy, black and white photograph of a window looking out onto a landscape. The window frame is visible on the left and bottom. Outside, there are trees and a fence. The overall tone is somber and contemplative.

MESSAGE TO SENIORS

Each year, in my message to seniors, I comment on the responsibilities faced in the trying times to be encountered. Never before has this been a greater problem than at present. You have been aware of some of the frustrations that must be overcome in today's society. You are approaching a world where decisions have to be made about problems which have never been solved before. It is my hope that you have had experience in decision making, during your school years, which will enable you to make reasonable judgements about the situations you will encounter. This is a most important aspect for schools, at this time, as the matters you will face are too complex and changing too rapidly to allow teaching all the experiences you will see. The consequence is that we attempt to show how to solve new problems and it will be your responsibility to equate the methods to the new developments in society. This is an awesome but enjoyable task with which I feel certain you are well prepared to cope.

Thomas G. Burdin, Jr.
Principal

I hope that by now you have formulated your individual systems of values and at least some of your goals. That you may do this indicates that you have not only a personal privilege but also a responsibility. In order to be able to "do your own thing" you must expect tolerance on the part of others, and be prepared to be tolerant as well. I wish you luck.

T. W. Calhoun
Vice-Principal

If I should be asked to name the most significant accomplishments that have taken place in our school system during the nine years that I have served in West Bridgewater I am certain that one of the most important took place during the evening of Monday, November 11, 1970. It was on that evening that a number of students, parents, school staff, and school committee members sat down together and really discussed some matters of mutual concern. You seniors played a major role in this meeting, yet even more important, the vast majority of you have since made a real effort to cooperate and to take leadership roles that have resulted in improved conditions in the school.

The above came about slowly, which is not uncommon in a democracy, yet it was a first step and I am confident that it will be followed by an ever improved mutual understanding of the needs and goals of contemporary secondary education.

Perhaps this initial experience can serve as a guide for you in future years as you continue with your studies, take jobs, and set up homes of your own. Also, you may get some encouragement from the old proverb, "A journey of a thousand miles must begin with a single step."

Thank you for your many and fine contributions to our schools and our community. Good luck and God bless you.

Donald A. Fisher,
Superintendent of Schools

What to do?

Mr. President

As we near the end of our trip we wonder what it is all about — where have we gone, but then we realize that as long as the sun keeps shining, time will run up but — so do we — sit back and enjoy life.

Remember what we've said, and done, and felt about each other — things are changing. Don't let the past remind us of what we are not now — we are

CAPE DORY "10"

Anyone big enough to row, or sail, will get a kick out of this little classic. Smooth fiberglass hull, inside and out. Efficient Cat Rig 200 lb. reserve flotation for extra safety. Toss it on your car too. Trail it with ease. Complete with sails.

travel on the cape dory family plan

three models to choose from

Cape Dory fiberglass proud-built classics give you proven, steady performance, and the beautiful lines of traditional designs. Heavy sailing at down-to-earth prices. All mahogany interior, teak optional. HIGHEST STANDARDS OF QUALITY FOR LASTING VALUE.

ALBERG TYPHOON "18"

This one can be a weekender. A mini-yacht! Two 7' berths, big storage lockers, room for a marine head. Self-bailing cockpit, teak trim and 900 lbs. of lead in the hull. She's solid, and a joy to sail. The aristocrat of small keel boats.

CAPE DORY "14"

Great for family sailing. A thoroughbred rowing dory. Explore inlets and outlets with an outboard. Single forestay for quick rigging. Family safe with 600 lbs. flotation. Unique kick-up rudder and 50 lb. centerboard for stable, fast response. Complete with sails.

The Graduating Class Of 1971

wishes to thank

Miss Anne Davenport for her assistance and calm endurance as Literary advisor.

Mrs. John Kent for her never ending patience and generous counsel to the Business Staff.

Mr. Robert Murphy of the American Yearbook Company for his many suggestions in the planning of the Climber.

Dodge-Murphy Studios for photographing our activities.

Mr. Burdin, Mr. Calhoun, and Mr. Fisher for their cooperation in allowing us the time to meet the requirements of the publication.

The people of West Bridgewater and neighboring towns who gave so generously to the publication.

Those Seniors who were willing to contribute their time and effort to make this (purple and orange?) yearbook one we will never forget.

"THAT IS ALL!"
